PIKES PEAK REGION

CONGRATULATIONS!

Congratulations on adopting a new pet from
Humane Society of the Pikes Peak Region.
We are so grateful that you chose to adopt from us.

FREE VETERINARY WELLNESS EXAM

INCLUDED WITH YOUR ADOPTION

To help your furry friend get off to a great start, veterinarians listed in this booklet will provide one free veterinary wellness examination within 14 days of the date of adoption.*

*Please contact the veterinarian office directly to ensure they are still able to honor this offer.

A woman with long brown hair is sitting on a couch, looking at a laptop. A black dog is lying next to her, resting its head on her leg. The scene is indoors with soft lighting.

BE SURE TO TAKE YOUR
ADOPTION RECORDS,
INCLUDING THE MEDICAL HISTORY REPORT AND CERTIFICATES, TO YOUR VETERINARIAN.

MAKE AN APPOINTMENT

Call the veterinary hospital to schedule an appointment for this free health examination. Please tell the receptionist that you have adopted an animal from Humane Society of the Pikes Peak Region.

ESTABLISH A RELATIONSHIP WITH A VETERINARIAN

Your commitment to your pet starts by making an appointment for a veterinary examination. Local veterinarians support that commitment by donating a free health examination with each adoption. A veterinarian can assess your animal's specific healthcare needs and answer questions. The free examination does not include any additional tests, vaccinations, medications or treatments. Here is a list of some tests and preventative measures that may be recommended:

- FeLV/FIV Testing for Cats – Feline Leukemia Virus and Feline Immunodeficiency Virus are infectious diseases that can be easily transmitted between cats. Cats may or may not show signs of illness, so it is important to have them tested in order to determine if your cat carries one of these viruses.
- Heartworm Test and Preventative – Heartworm disease is transmitted by mosquitoes and is most common in areas close to bodies of water during warmer months. Incidence of this disease is lower in Colorado compared to other areas of the country. However, if contracted, this disease can lead to a life-threatening illness in your pet.
- Flea and Tick Preventative – Protecting your pet from fleas and ticks is vital to your pet's overall health, as fleas and ticks can transmit disease.
- Additional Vaccinations – Please talk to your veterinarian regarding additional vaccinations or boosters. Recommendations will vary based on your pet's age and lifestyle.
- Fecal Examination – Your new pet has been de-wormed for roundworms. However, we recommend that you have a stool sample evaluated for other internal parasites, such as Coccidia, Tapeworms or Giardia.
- Geriatric Care – If you adopted an older animal, please consult with your veterinarian about a special diet, lab work, and dental care. Older animals have special needs and require more frequent veterinary attention to ensure all their needs are being met.

Accidents can happen.

Having a veterinarian that knows your animal could save your pet's life.
